

FARMER INGLE SHOWS UP NORTH DAKOTA HIGH TAXES

UNDER NONPARTISAN REGIME ENORMOUS INCREASE RECORDED

Figures Cited Showing the North Dakota Taxes Paid by Individual Farmers, and Taxes Paid by Farmers in Crow Wing County

Farmer J. G. Ingle of Dawson, Belton township, Kidder county, North Dakota, spoke at Gardner auditorium Wednesday evening at a largely attended meeting, which from a political standpoint aroused more interest than any held in Brainerd since pioneer days.

Farmer Ingle explained in detail his experience with A. C. Townley, and other leaders of the Nonpartisan league.

After the address of Farmer Ingle questions were allowed and there was more excitement, indiscriminate debate and general argument than was ever staged at any political meeting of the present campaign. P. M. Zakariasen, well known farmer, presided at the meeting.

Farmer Ingle has had personal dealings with Townley and his committee and lieutenants and followed his statements with reams of letters and affidavits and clippings from newspapers, etc. In many cases he asked people in the audience to read them for him.

High Taxes of North Dakota
To show people to what extent Mr. Ingle fortifies his arguments, take the section he devoted to increases in North Dakota taxes. He gave the statement of Thomas Beare of Brainerd who owns property in Grand Forks, N. D. In 1918 Mr. Beare paid $942.14, in 1919 he paid $1455.04, an increase of $512.90.

To show you how Crow Wing county compared with North Dakota taxes of 1918 and 1919, Mr. Ingle secured the sworn statement of County Auditor C. W. Mahlum, as follows:

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 20, 1920
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss.

I hereby certify that the following is a correct comparative statement of taxes levied for years 1918 and 1919, on several farms in Crow Wing County, Minnesota, selected at random from different parts of the county:

Farm of Amanda Spies, 108.60 acres in Sec. 2, Twp. 133, Rge. 29, Town of Baxter:	1918 tax $20.81	1919 tax $28.86
Farm of Flora M. Elder, all of Section 5, Twp. 44, Rge. 30, Town of Long Lake:	1918 tax $328.28	1919 tax $467.40
Farm of Chas. Ott, 160 acres in the S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 18, Twp. 44, Rge. 31, Town of Crow Wing:	1918 tax $94.87	1919 tax $171.73
Farm of John Dewing, 281 acres in Sec. 1, Twp. 43, Rge. 28, Town of Roosevelt:	1918 tax $55.35	1919 tax $67.93
Farm of J. B. James, 160 acres in S. W. 1/4, Sec. 12, Twp. 43, Rge. 30, Town of Daggett Brook:	1918 tax $38.62	1919 tax $44.63
Farm of Homer W. Johnson, all of Sec. 27, Twp. 43, Rge. 30, Town of Daggett Brook:	1918 tax $140.71	1919 tax $160.41

C. W. MAHLUM,
County Auditor, Crow Wing County, Minnesota.

What North Dakota Farmers Paid
"Some interesting comparisons in tax costs under the old and the new regime in North Dakota are made by State Auditor Kositzki," said Farmer Ingle. "Kositzki has from the first opposed the 'ownley' taxation program."

"In the matter of actual tax assessments, Mr. Kositzki cited in support of his contention that the Townley program has imposed heavy burdens on the farmer, the following typical instances from Mercer county, where crops were poor several years in succession:

Farmer Thos. Fegenskau, 1918 tax $254.44, 1919 tax $627.78, plus 3c hall tax $13.80. Total 1919 tax $641.58.

Farmer George S. Davies 1918 tax was $73.24. His 1919 tax is $191.35

SENATOR HARDING REITERATES POSITION ON LEAGUE

AGAINST WILSON PACT THAT SURRENDERS AMERICAN SOVEREIGNTY

FAVORS WORLD CONFERENCE THAT IS NOT A MILITARY ALLIANCE AS ART. X

RAYMOND CLAPPER, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 21—Senator Warren G. Harding today challenged anyone to draw up a parallel column of his utterances on the league of nations and find a statement not in accord.

Speaking at Convention hall here the republican candidate insisted that he has held to one position throughout his campaign and again refused to outline in detail his conception of an association of nations.

Criticisms from democratic leaders who charge Harding with shifting his league of nations position several times during the campaign brought the statement from the republican candidate.

"I will have said from the beginning that we would not have the Wilson covenant and I say it to you again now," he said.

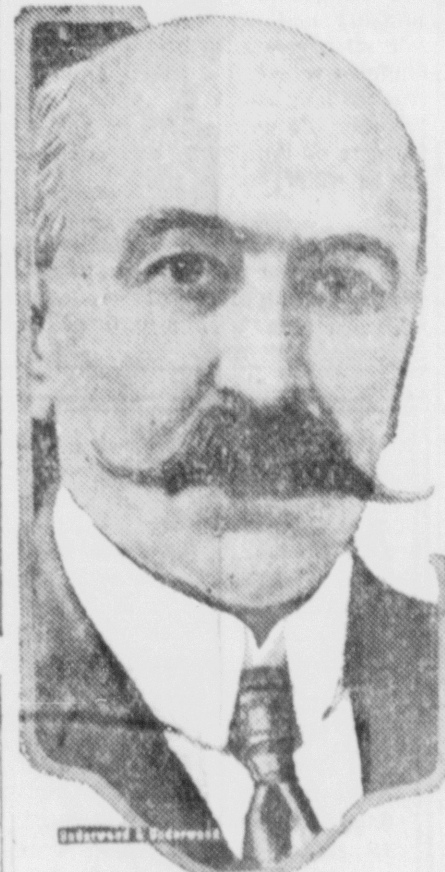

"But I have said repeatedly America will gladly play her part in a suitable association of nations which do not involve the surrender of American sovereignty, which is built on the ideals of justice rather than force, and I say it to you again."

"I do not believe in very much of the present league. If the democratic candidate wants to regard this as my thirteenth change I give him notice that I have one more yet to give him because you know I am entitled to fourteen."

"I will give a reward to any man in America who can take my utterances on world politics from my speech of acceptance at the time I was formally notified of my nomination down to the speech I am making at this hour, who can find any inconsistency or change of my position."

"I have not specified just how we would do it because I am going to be called upon to make good, but I have said repeatedly and I say to you now, when I am elected I am going to consult with the leading minds of America without regard to party and without regard to sex. It will be just as well to bring the leading womanhood of America into this new idealism of world relations and out of counsel of many minds I hope we can involve some plan back of which America can unite and thus lead the way of the world to a new and better order."

GEORGES LEYGUES

Georges Leygues, who has been minister of marine in the French cabinet, has been made premier under President Millerand, and will also be minister of foreign affairs.

Never Submit League with Article X in It

Acceptance of Article X of the league of nations covenant would mark final surrender of the American constitutional integrity, Senator Harding declared.

A message handed Harding as he stepped to the platform, asked him to tell where he stood on the league and quit "pussyfooting."

"I don't think that any friend will accuse me of pussyfooting if he will listen to this," Harding replied.

"As president I will never submit the treaty to the senate with Article X in it." The remark was greeted with loud cheering.

A cold which Senator Harding caught at Indianapolis last week is still hanging on and is causing the candidate to make fewer rear platform speeches.

Phillips was with Murray's wife when the shooting occurred.

Following the shooting Murray entered a taxi, drove to the nearest police station and laying the revolver on the desk said to the officer in charge: "There it is. I just shot a man. He broke up my home."

Mrs. Murray's suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty is pending in Kentucky.

(United Press)

Many women were severely burned in escaping from the building. Over a hundred persons were caught inside when the fire started from defective electric wiring.

PROSPERITY OF BANKING BUSINESS

DEPENDS ON THE SAFETY AND PROSPERITY OF THE FARMER

(United Press)

Washington, Oct. 21—The safety and prosperity of banking business depends upon the safety and prosperity of the farmer, Joseph Hirsch, chairman of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, said in a report to the association convention here today.

The report urged the bankers to use their influence toward properly maintaining the department of agriculture and to help the farmer in marketing his produce by encouraging the organization of cooperative warehouses and selling organizations.

Hirsch's report aroused especial interest here because of the recent plea of farmers to the treasury and federal reserve board for aid in marketing their crops. They declared that they were losing millions of dollars because they were forced to sell at low prices.

BRITISH RAILROAD MEN ORDERED TO STRIKE SUNDAY

IN SYMPATHY WITH MINERS UNLESS MINERS STRIKE IS SETTLED

ORDER CAME AS SURPRISE TO GOVERNMENT—CABINET HOLDS SESSION

(United Press)

London, Oct. 21—Orders have been issued for British railroad men to strike Sunday at midnight in sympathy with the coal miners.

Under the order sent out today, railroad men throughout the united Kingdom will walk out at midnight unless special instructions to the contrary are issued in the meantime.

Announcement of the strike order followed the statement of J. H. Thomas, secretary of the railroad workers and members of parliament, that an ultimatum will be served on Premier Lloyd George today.

The ultimatum will demand immediate granting of the miners' wage demands or reopening of negotiations with the alternative of the sympathetic strike.

If Lloyd George capitulates the railroad strike will be called off.

Transportation workers, the other division of the "triple alliance" announced through their secretary, Robert Williams, if the negotiations were not reopened within twenty-four hours the issue would be clearly drawn between the government and the workers.

Williams is a radical. He is credited with being the real head of the organization.

Situation Looks Dark

London, Oct. 21—Great Britain was threatened today with one of the greatest industrial upheavals in her history.

With coal miners already on strike forcing thousands of workers out of employment, railroad and transportation workers today submitted ultimatums to the government, promising a strike of more than three million in the triple alliance if miners are not given an increase or negotiations resumed.

Railroad workers issued a strike order effective Sunday at midnight unless countermanded.

The transportation workers' threat was less definite, calling for action toward settlement within 24 hours. "The issue will be between the government and the working class," unless some steps are taken the transportation workers promised.

The triple alliance comprises miners, transportation workers and railway men and is regarded as the most powerful labor organization in the world and can stop all British industries if it desires.

Cabinet Holds Session

The British cabinet went into session late today following the announcement that railway workers have voted a sympathetic strike with the coal miners.

News of the surprise vote of railroad delegates was received while the house of commons was in session and members of the cabinet left immediately.

Scarcity of Fuel Never Puts Out This Stove

The Round Oak Square Base Heater burns "any old fuel"—coals, slack, wood, coke, soft coal, etc.—as efficiently as hard coal. Soft coal smoke, for example, is burned white, the black carbon in it is forced to give up heat by the perfected Round Oak hot blast. This saves 38% on fuel that would otherwise be wasted up the chimney. Clinkers can't form—the patented cone-center grate prevents them. Many other advantages. We recommend prompt inspection. The present situation is making good stoves hard to get. Made by the Round Oak Folks.

POLITICAL TEA WAS A SUCCESS

Many Women From Brainerd and Townships Near By Attend the Gathering at Thabes' Home

ALL BALLOTS ARE EXPLAINED

Blue, Pink, and White—Four Amendments to State Constitution are Given Emphasis (Contributed)

If the attendance at the political tea given by Mrs. J. A. Thabes, is any indication of the interest women are taking in politics there will be a record vote, on Nov. 2nd. There were women from the north side, and the south side, from southeast and northeast, from West Brainerd and Mill town and from Oak Lawn, Merrifield, Hubert and Bay Lake. They filled the spacious rooms to their capacity. Even the beautifully decorated table, in the dining room, was completely surrounded by auditors.

A bronze elephant, on the table, attached to a centerpiece of red geraniums, with reins of red satin ribbon, seemed to be straining every nerve to carry its chariot of flowers toward the speaker, Judge Wiler F. Wieland. The effort was a worthy one, for the judge certainly added laurels to the elephant's crown and votes to the G. O. P. His sane, temperate, judicial language gave his reasons for the Republican faith that is in him all the greater force.

After giving due credit to parental influence and sectional prejudice, Judge Wieland stated that he was not conscious of being affected by either of these influences but had cast his lot with the party that had added the most constructive, progressive legislation to our statute books, and had given this country its greatest leaders.

Only a small part of his address was devoted to the Republican cause, however. After giving a few directions on the technique of voting, the judge dwelt upon the importance of voting the pink ballot, which carries the amendments to the state constitution. He illustrated the difficulty of passing an amendment at a general election by stating that he had never heard any objection raised to Amendment No. two, which simply lengthened the term of the Probate Judge to correspond with that of all the other county offices, yet for years it had failed of passage because of the indifference of the voter. He said he would wager that he could go down town the morning after election and ask one of our leading business men what he did with amendment No. 4, and would receive the following reply: "I didn't understand it, so I let it alone".

In reality, he couldn't let it alone. By not voting for it he voted against it, as the law requires a majority of all the votes cast and his vote added to the number of votes, but did not add to the number favoring this amendment.

The judge stated that this treatment would be particularly unfortunate when applied to Amendments 1 and 4 as both of these would help Brainerd out of its financial difficulties. Amendment No. 4 amends the Gross Earning Tax law by striking out the word "assessments". That law lays a tax of 5 per cent on all railroad property, which tax is paid direct to the state and is in lieu of all other taxes and assessments. This compels Brainerd to keep its streets in repair for the use of automobiles belonging to railroad employees, to furnish said employees police and fire protection, and educate their children without receiving one cent of compensation from railroad properties. He stated that it seemed fair that railroad companies should pay for improvements abutting their property, inasmuch as road roads increased freight business.

The Babcock law, providing for a complete system of state highways, will also benefit Brainerd financially, inasmuch as the state agrees to pay for a strip of paving sixteen feet in width on all those streets that are used as a part of the state highway system. If this amendment passes, the city will probably get a rebate for part of the paving on Oak, Kindred and Kingwood streets and can use this money in paving other streets. The judge asked the ladies, therefore, to give amendments 1 and 4 their most earnest consideration, and if they didn't understand them to see that they did before election day.

After an explanation, by D. D. Schrader, of the absence of the name of I. W. Bouck on the sample ballot, and advice as to how to fill said blank, the formal part of the meeting adjourned and tea and cakes were served by the following ladies: Mesdames Jewett, W. H. Gemmell, Clyde Burnett, Sherrick, G. J. Badeau, W. H. Cleary, W. C. Cobb, Howard Ingersoll and the Misses Anne Mahlum and June Lamb.

CROW WING COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Things It Has Done

The Farm Bureau is an organization of farmers and men interested actively, in agriculture who have associated themselves together, for the purpose of developing agriculture, agricultural and allied industries. Specialized scientific agriculture assistance was first secured in 1912 with A. J. Gafke as county agent. Mr. Gafke continued his work as such until June, 1916. He was succeeded by E. A. Colquhoun who continued in service until May, 1919 and was followed by E. G. Roth who is now employed as county agent.

At each annual meeting of the Farm Bureau, a definite outline or programme of work is given. This programme gives out in detail the work to be done for the ensuing year and deals with the most important problems that have demanded attention in the past and that should be given consideration in the future. This plan is deviated from as seasonal conditions required.

Some of the big things that the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau has done since 1912:

Farmer's Clubs

Twelve Farmer's Clubs were organized in twelve different rural communities in the county and have proven of immense value to every community. By working out community problems, exchanging of labor, cooperative purchasing of machinery, purchasing of live stock and furnishing a social monthly meeting for the neighborhood.

Live Stock Shipping Association
Through the need of a steady consistent market, Live Stock Shipping Associations were organized through the Farm Bureau at Brainerd and Pequot. The Brainerd Live Stock Shipping Association under the management of G. S. McCulloch has shipped in the past two years, the major portion of the live stock from the Brainerd community. The Pequot Live Stock Shipping Association under the management of Mr. Dudgeon has just recently been organized and is doing an active business.

Co-operative Creamery
Through the activity of the Farm Bureau, the Brainerd Co-operative Creamery was organized which last year, did a business of over $96,000 and this year, will increase this amount by 25% doing a $125,000 business.

Seeds

Rosen Rye and Minnesota No. 2 certified seed have been introduced in the county. Three years ago 9 bushels of Rosen Rye seed was secured for a total acreage of about seven acres. This year more than 10% of the total acreage of rye in the county was planted with Rosen Rye seed much of which is a pure certified variety. Pure bred varieties of Soy Beans, winter wheat, seed corn, have been introduced into the county by the Farm Bureau and grown successfully by a large number of the farmers of the county.

Cattle

Every year more pure bred and high grade cattle have been introduced into the county and distributed among various farmers. Three bull rings have been formed during the year 1920. Two carloads of pure bred and high grade calves and cattle were brought in from Wisconsin. 250 cattle were tested for tuberculosis, 10 herds inspected by state veterinarians for diseases such as: Hemorrhagic Septicemia, Lung Worms and Lump Jaw.

Potatoes

Much has been done through the county agent in improving the variety of seed, treatment, care and marketing of the potato crop each year. Formaldehyde and Corrosive Sublimite are now a common by-word and essential to nearly every potato grower in the county. The use of Bordeaux is being more extensively used yearly. Potato Shipping Associations were organized at Pequot and Jenkins and plans are laid for one at Brainerd.

Dynamite

Through the Farm Bureau one and one-half carloads of dynamite were secured at cost for the farmers of the county.

Wool Growers' Association

The sheep men, through the Farm Bureau, organized a Wool Growers' Association and through it purchase their wool twine and sacks, pool their wool to be delivered to the market in the bulk. This year the wool is being held by the pool for better prices. The pool is holding for approximately fifty cents per pound. At the time of the clip wool was worth from ten to fifteen cents per pound, it is now worth in the neighborhood of forty to forty-five cents per pound.

Miscellaneous Projects

The Farm Bureau has given assistance in the registration of live stock, selection of fruit trees, home conveniences, community development, income tax reports, securing of building plans and the distribution of all agricultural information.

The Farm Bureau has been financed by appropriations from the Federal Government, State and County and by membership dues. In the past the Farm Bureau work has been more or less local but now, since the organization of the State and National Federation Bureau the work has been extended and will help the farmer in the best way possible. Already a number of bills which were detrimental to the interests of the farmer have been defeated through the efforts of the National Federation, and more and better results from the State and National organizations may be expected as the organization gains in strength for the best interests of better agriculture.

Everest-Blackburn

A very pretty wedding occurred at 9 a. m. Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Everest, 807 South 7th street when Cecil Sidney Everest of this city and Della Blackburn of Enderlin, N. D., were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. The bride wore a gown of light blue crepe-de-chine and carried a large bouquet of roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur C. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church. The best man was Dudley Everest brother of the groom and the bridesmaid Miss Ruth Everest.

A wedding breakfast was served in four courses assisted by Miss Ruth Everest and Miss Florence Brown.

Many useful presents were received and all present heartily congratulated the newlyweds who left on the afternoon train for a few days in North Dakota, the bride's home.

The out of town guests were Mr. Chas. Severson of Enderlin, N. D., father of bride; Miss Ellen Severson, the bride's sister and Mrs. W. H. Fletcher, Sauk Rapids. Other guests were relatives and friends of the family.

Fireside Club

The Fireside club of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet with Miss Mollie Fredericksen, Bluff Avenue, South, Friday evening. Friends and members are cordially invited.

First Baptist Church

The prayer meeting of the First Baptist church will be led by Dr. Jos. Nicholson to which all members of the church and congregation are requested to be present. Remember that the goal set is 50 in attendance. Let everybody help to make it.

Today's Geography

WHAT'S IN SOME GEOGRAPHIC NAMES

Names of such women as Joan of Arc and Edith Cavell are written indelibly upon the hearts of people for all ages. Generous and well deserved tributes have been paid lastingly to others, but so much have their names become a part of our daily lives that many who frequently pronounce them are unmindful of their significance. Cities, rivers, provinces and islands bear the names of women of distinction.

Lady Franklin Island, near Baffin Island, in the arctic circle, is named for the wife of Sir John Franklin, the explorer who lost his life in first finding the Northwest passage through the great ice of the polar regions. There is perhaps no more beautiful story of untiring devotion and persistent effort than that of Lady Jane Franklin who, after the failure of many attempts, fitted out a ship which, though it brought back to her the definite proof of the loss of her husband's expedition, established his achievement of his object.

The picturesque stories of the little Indian princess Pocahontas in ways will hold a loved place in the hearts of American childhood. Counties in Iowa and West Virginia, villages in Bond county, Illinois, and Cape Girardeau county, Missouri, and in the Rocky mountains in Alberta, Canada, are named for her.

Queen Victoria's name is wrapped around the British empire from the capital of British Columbia, over the heart of Africa at Victoria Nyanza and Victoria falls, and beyond into the Queensland and Victoria in far-away Australia.

America, too, in its early days of colonization paid its tribute to the queens of the mother country and to the gracious ladies who braved the dangers of untried shores with their lords. Elizabeth, a cape in Maine, and Elizabeth City in Virginia, as well as the state itself, together with some 25 other places in the United States, bear the name of the clever, witty, versatile coquette, who took the dissension-torn England and whipped it into a place as a world power. Elizabeth Carteret, the charming wife of one of the aristocratic proprietors of New Jersey, shares with Queen Elizabeth some of the honors of the name. Elizabethtown, in North Carolina, and Elizabeth City, in New Jersey, are named for her.

The name of Clara Barton is perpetuated in Barton county, Kansas, and the wife of George Washington, who before her first marriage was Martha Dandridge, is honored in the town of Dandridge, Tenn.

Maryland and Virginia are fairly bespattered with the names of the queens and princesses of England, the state name of the former being taken from that of Queen Henrietta Maria, the wife of Charles I. Then, too, there are Annapolis, named for the wife of James I of England; and Anne Arundel and Caroline counties, in Maryland, called after the wives of two of the Calverts; Fluvanna county and the North Anna river in Virginia, named for Queen Anne; and Charlotte, Amelia and Caroline counties and Charlottesville, the home of the University of Virginia, all called for the wives and daughters of English kings.

Marietta, O., was named for the haughty, charming Antoinette. The Aleutian Islands, off the coast of Alaska, when that territory was Russian, were known as Catherine archipelago, in honor of Catherine the Great. Ekaterinburg was named for the Russian Catherine who ruled Russia through her husband, Peter the Great.

VERA CRUZ: TRAVERSING A CONTINENT IN 75 MILES

"While fully aware of the high percentage of error most sweeping assertions contain, I nevertheless venture to claim that the country lying between the cities of Vera Cruz and Mexico City possesses more varied natural attractions than any other area of similar extent in the world."

This is the statement of Frank M. Chapman, in a communication to the National Geographic society concerning Vera Cruz, which figures so conspicuously in news dispatches from Mexico. Doctor Chapman continues: "Be one student or tourist, there can be no question that one should enter Mexico from the gulf. A journey from the coast to the capital follows a natural succession of climatic zones as well as the sequence of early historic events."

"The day, indeed, should begin at sunrise, some hours before disembarking at Vera Cruz, with a hope that one may have the rare good fortune to see the first rays of the sun touch the summit of Mt. Orizaba, the first, as it will be among the most lasting, of one's impressions of Mexico. The shore is still some 30 miles distant, the mountain itself about 100 miles, and one is with difficulty convinced that the gleaming pink cloud high above the horizon is part of the still invisible earth beneath it. Doubtless the Aztecs were not familiar with this view of Mt. Orizaba, but from no other place is their name for it—Citlaltapetl (the Star Mountain)—so applicable.

"Time was when Vera Cruz was dreaded as a pest-hole, and trains at once took one from the steamer up the Sierras on the way to Mexico City, usually as far as Orizaba. Now, however, sanitary conditions and hotel accommodations have been so improved that one may stay here without danger or discomfort.

"In our journey from the gulf to the summit of the Sierras we pass through tropical, temperate and boreal zones—the Tierras Caliente, Templada and Fria of the native. Our actual journey, in passing from sea level to snow-line, may be a matter of 75 miles, our change of altitude approximately three miles; but if we were to seek the Canadian zone not on mountain top but on the coast, it would be necessary for us to travel to Maine or Nova Scotia. In other words, a journey of some 1,500 miles would be required to reach conditions which are here distant but three altitudinal miles.

"It follows, then, that one can actually stand in a tropical jungle, where parrots, trogons, toucans, and other equatorial birds are calling from the liana-draped trees, and look upward to forests of pines and spruce, where crossbills, juncos, pine siskins, and evening grosbeaks are among the common permanent resident species.

"Later we may ascend the snows on Orizaba to discover at approximately what altitude the palms of the Tierra Caliente give way to the oaks of the Tierra Templada, to be in turn replaced by the spruce of the Tierra Fria."

QUACKS: ANCIENT AND MODERN

Do you regard cold cream as an ultra-modern palliative?

Or pure food and drug laws as a comparatively recent type of legislation?

Or the familiar "cure all" as an up-to-date quack device for the twentieth century credulous?

You are wrong, according to the statements contained in a communication to the National Geographic society from Dr. John A. Foote. A part of the communication states:

"Most people at some time or another use cold cream. It seems quite a modern luxury, indispensable alike to peer and pet, and adapted to many and varied uses. In fact, one traveler tells recently of having some of his cold cream eaten by a fat hungry vial in Germany. So we are inclined to regard it as a fairly modern product. And yet 'unguentum refrigerans,' cold cream, has come down to us from Roman days. The first formula is attributed to Galen, who lived and wrote in the second century. What we use today is practically the same, though 'Dr.' Galen's original formula was imitated and 'improved' hundreds of times.

"Emperor Frederick II, of Sicily, in 1240 or 1241, published the first pure food and drug act. He was about 700 years ahead of Dr. Wiley, for he specified strict regulations of the standard of drug purity, and provided for drug inspectors, and fined all offenders."

"The practice of medicine was also regulated. A physician was required to have a diploma from a university before he could study medicine; then he took a three-year course in the school of medicine and one year practice under a practicing physician. Special post graduate work in anatomy was required if he was to do surgery.

"All this was in the so-called 'dark ages.' Even the fees of physicians and pharmacists were strictly regulated by law and were in purchasing value about the same as the charges of the present day. Physicians were not allowed to own drug stores and drug adulterators were severely dealt with.

"Mithradatum was the name of the great antidote of Roman pharmacy. It had from 49 to 50 vegetable ingredients, few of which had any real medicinal value except opium, and these drugs were blended with honey.

"It remained for Nero's physician, Andromachus, to put the finishing touches to this wonderful compound. Andromachus added viper's flesh to the formula and called his new compound Theriac. He wrote some verses dedicated to Nero, describing this medicine and claiming virtues for it which in our day would subject him to prosecution. Evidently he believed he had created in this one compound a veritable pharmaceutical monopoly.

"Galen, one of the fathers of medicine, went even further. He recommended it as a cure for all poisons, bites, headaches, vertigo, deafness, epilepsy, apoplexy, dimness of sight, loss of voice, asthma, coughs, scurvy of blood, tightness of breath, colic, the iliac passion (appendicitis), jaundice, hardening of the spleen, stone, tetanus, dropsy, leprosy, melancholy, all venereal diseases, etc. Nowadays he would probably have included common thumb, golf shoulder and movie eye.

"As Galen's writings dominated medical thought for over 1,500 years, it is not surprising that this advertisement made Mithradatum, or Theriac, a valued remedy. Every physician of note for centuries afterward claimed some improvement on the original formula."

MAN WHIPPED BY
KU KLUX KLAN

(By United Press)
 Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 21—Declaring he had been seized and whipped by members of the Ku Klux Klan near Trenton, South Carolina, Monday, Peter McMahon, 55, arrived here today seeking hospital treatment. His wrists were lacerated by ropes and his back showed marks of whipping, according to police.

McMahon said his life was threatened when he attempted to assist Miss Florence Powell, twenty-five, of Aiken, S. C., in a settlement which involved disposition of her father's property.

HODGSON DENIES
HE WILL WITHDRAW

(United Press)
 St. Paul, Oct. 21—Mayor L. C. Hodgson, democratic candidate for governor, issued another statement today denying alleged reports that he intended to withdraw.

"I think the report was started from the republican headquarters," he said, and added, "I will not desert the cause for which we fight. Why should I quit the fight for a candidate that if elected will oppose every popular principle which we believe in?"

PROPOSE CUTTING
COTTON ACREAGE
TO STABILIZE PRICES

(By United Press)
 Dallas, Texas, Oct. 21—Resolutions seeking pledges from tenant farmers and land owners to cut their 1921 cotton acreage fifty per cent "to stabilize prices which are now demoralized," were placed before a meeting of about one thousand bankers, farmers and merchants meeting here today to consider means of remedying the cotton price situation.

DENIED KILLING WIFE—
SAYS TRAMP SHOT HER

(United Press)
 Chicago, Oct. 21—Undisturbed by rapidly fired questions by the prosecution, Carl Wanderer, on trial here for the murder of his wife and an unidentified tramp, today reiterated a denial that he killed his wife.

"The tramp shot and killed her. I killed the tramp," said Wanderer. Wanderer's answers to some of the questions were vague. He again repudiated the alleged confession that he shot both.

GENERAL STRIKE IS PREDICTED
IN ENGLANDIF MINERS STRIKE IS NOT SETTLED BY GOVERNMENT AND MINERS

By CHAS. McCANN
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 London, Oct. 21—"Unless negotiations to end the coal strike are instituted within 24 hours, the issue will be between the government and the working classes," Secretary Robert Williams, of the transportation workers said today.

Williams made the statement following the morning sessions of the transportation workers delegation. He is recognized as one of the most radical leaders.

The attitude of the transportation workers was more beligerent than that of the railroad workers, who adjourned a morning meeting without a decision. Railway workers were said to have planned avoiding a vote on the question of a sympathetic strike until every chance of a settlement had been exhausted. Failure of the government and miners to agree will mean a strike, it was said.

Williams' statement was taken to mean that his organization was inclined to force action. He didn't say whether he had assurance other labor bodies would follow in a division of the government and the working classes.

MacSWINEY WEAKENED
BY DELIRIUM—
LOSES HIS MEMORY

(United Press)
 London, Oct. 21—Weakened by severe paroxysms of delirium yesterday Terence MacSwiney was said by relatives to have lost his memory. Relatives said he failed to recognize them.

The Daily Chronicle said that prison physicians said MacSwiney had brandy and beef extract yesterday while he was unconscious following a delirious spell. MacSwiney was said to have been enraged at what he called trickery and to have refused further nourishment.

SEES IN HARDING
BEST TRADITIONS,
IDEALS AND HOPES

Nominee's Former Pastor Still
 Boosting Man Who Will Be Leader and Not Dictator.

FINDS IN SENATOR NO
TRACE OF RADICALISM

Declares Justice, Kindliness and Mercy
 Stand Out as Foremost Characteristics of Republican Candidate.

Included among the Minnesota Republicans working faithfully and industriously in behalf of Senator Harding, is Rev. D. B. Martin, of Winnebago, Minn., formerly pastor of the Marion, Ohio, Baptist Church and Senator Harding's pastor. The other day Rev. Martin was asked just why he is so enthusiastic about Senator Harding, and this is what he said:

"It is a peculiar pleasure for me to continue the work which I began twenty-five years ago. It was my privilege to stand on the side lines and boost for Senator Harding when he received his first nomination for public office. When he was a candidate for the senate I was visiting in Ohio and had the pleasure of boosting for him. It is, therefore, a peculiar pleasure to join with this bunch of Minnesota boosters in seeking to put Senator Harding over, in the greatest gift within the power of the people. Being a clergyman, I have been constantly asked by my friends at the college commencement in Michigan, in Chicago and in Minnesota why I am such a persistent booster for Mr. Harding, and I have been asked to state in this presence my reasons for doing so. These are three:

"The first pertains to certain elements of his character. I will give you these as I received them while I was pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, of which Mr. Harding is a member. I asked him and a group of other men to make some Sunday evening addresses. I do not remember much that Senator Harding said at that time, but I do remember very distinctly the words with which he closed his address and which have stood all these years as outstanding elements of his character to me. He closed the address by a quotation from the Prophets, in which he said, 'And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee but to do justly and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' Justice, mercy, kindness and humility have in all these years stood as foremost characteristics of Mr. Harding's life—characteristics which are always attractive and make a man's life worth while.

"The second reason is because I believe that there is focused in him the best traditions, ideals and purposes of the great Republican party and so peculiarly fit him to be their leader in this great crisis of the nation's life. I use the word 'leader' advisedly, for it is leadership that we are needing and not arbitrary, dictatorial, autocratic rule. We have had enough of that. If a boss is desired there would be no need for making any change, for the boss that we have is the bossiest.

"The third reason is because I find in him no trace of radicalism. To me radicalism is the greatest danger that we have to face. Our interests are too diverse to admit of anything of that character. We have our agricultural group with its interests. We have our financial interests. We have that other great group known as the public, that has always been made the 'goat,' with its interests. All of these are of vital interest to the common weal and I believe that Senator Harding is broad enough and sympathetic enough so that the interests of each will be blended in the common interest of all, and all will be perfectly safe under his leadership."

"READ THAT, MR. COX"
 AND MR. COX DID READ.

A little incident connected with candidate Cox's recent campaign visit to New York indicates that the Democratic nominee is striving to forget certain indiscreet editorials which appeared in his newspaper, the Dayton News, before the owner of the paper aspired to the Presidency.

As the Democratic nominee was leaving the Hotel Commodore after luncheon a commercial traveler forced his way through the throng of curious spectators and thrust into Mr. Cox's hand an editorial clipping which proved to be his denunciation of the commercial travelers of the United States. "Read that, Mr. Cox," commanded the traveling man. The Democratic candidate unfolded the frayed column of newspaper matter, glanced at the heading, scanned the first paragraph, flushed scarlet to the ears and crumpling the offensive and offending editorial in his fist mumbled something which none of those near him at the time would repeat and hurried to his waiting automobile.

In 1904 one of Mr. Cox's newspapers denounced the army of traveling salesmen as "unmitigated bores." What would be any power that he desires their votes?—South Lead (Ind.) Tribune.

SAVING SOUL IN BOLSHEVIST RUSSIA

Rev. E. W. Olson, First Missionary to Siberia, Tell of His Experiences

AT SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH

Swedish Baptists Have Full Liberty to Preach to 30,000,000 People of Siberia

Rev. E. W. Olson spoke to an appreciative audience in the Swedish Baptist church Tuesday evening on "With Bolshevists and Baptists in Siberia." Mr. Olson is the first missionary to Siberia. The missionary, Rev. Olson, did not, however, deal with the political conditions in Russia, but presented mainly the missionary work among the Bolshevists in Siberia.

Bolshevism is revolutionism and it goes beyond socialism. But while the doors are now closed for the state church, the Greek Catholic church, we have full liberty to preach the Gospel to the 30,000,000 people of Siberia, said he. The Christians have now their liberty, and those in prison have been released, in which many have been kept for 50 years.

The Bolshevists in Siberia are very acceptable to the simple Gospel of Jesus Christ and thousands have been converted. During the past year there were 400 baptized and united with the Baptist church in two mission stations. It is not as easy to become members of the Baptist church in Siberia as it is in America. All you have to do in this country is to give your consent to be baptized and this is granted you without any further question. It is not so in Siberia. In addition to your confession of faith in Jesus Christ, a committee is appointed to investigate your standing as a Christian in your home, where you work and who you associate with. We want to make sure that the candidate lives the Gospel. Should it be found that the candidate's life is not satisfactory, baptism and church membership is denied. And when they have become members and then begin to dishonor Christ in ungodly living, unless they repent they are excluded. That is more than can be said about you in this country. But then we may witness wonderful revivals too, not because the missionaries can give any better sermons, but because the Christians live so that that Holy Spirit can work. Sinners are converted every day, and we experience the joy of salvation, said Rev. Olson.

Mr. Olson told of a well-to-do governmental officer who was converted and baptized and is now one of the best soul winners in Siberia. This officer has bought the car that used to belong to the Czar for which the sum of $17,000 was paid. He then donated it to the Swedish Baptist Missionary society through which the missionaries have been sent out and supported. God is wonderful in His providential dealings. Just think how the Christians have had to suffer at the hands of the Czar. Now his car will be used to further the cause he sought to hinder.

"We need schools in Siberia," the Missionary said. "The people are very illiterate. You can go into almost any home in Siberia and you will not find a book or a paper. It is important now to give them the right kind of education, and that proper literature be given them to read."

"The need is great and the sufferings have been beyond description. I know whereof I speak for I have myself passed through and witnessed four revolutions during the last two years. During the war and revolutions, Russia has lost 15,000,000 of the cream of Russian manhood and tens of thousands of women and children through starvation, epidemics and needs."

"We think much of the American

B. H. S. SPORTS

(Contributed by D. H.)

Saturday, the day for the opening game with Crosby high is drawing near and everyone should be planning to attend the game. The boys on the team are putting forth their best efforts to grind down the rough edges and prepare B. H. S. for the victory which they hope to attain.

The yell leaders have been busy this week rehearsing yells and other ways and means of making noise to let Crosby know the old Brainerd high is still on the map. Hear them at Crosby Saturday.

It seems only fair that the team and Coach Butler should have the support of the city in their efforts to put Brainerd back in the sport world again. We ask every citizen of Brainerd to give them their utmost support in every manner possible.

Watch the Friday night paper for the Brainerd line-up. Let the slogan be: "Beat Crosby or Bust," and we won't come home busted.

FEARS WILSON LEAGUE MEANS FOREIGN RULE

Preus Declares Against League of Nations as Favoring Europe Against American Independence.

Thief River Falls, Minn.—That the League of Nations, as proposed by President Wilson and backed up by James M. Cox, democratic candidate for president, would result in foreign countries dictating what future wars the United States should engage in, was the contention of J. A. O. Preus, republican candidate for governor, in a speech here on the subject of the league. Mr. Preus declared that America, with only one vote, would have little or nothing to say even on such vital questions as Asiatic immigration and that Congress would become a mere rubber stamp for the decisions of the League of Nations council.

At the same time, Mr. Preus asserted, there is not a citizen of America who does not favor a world league to enforce peace. The question now paramount is whether the Wilson league should be accepted without the slightest change, as demanded by the administration, or with reservations which would safeguard America's interests and independence.

Mr. Preus spoke as follows:

"From the day when the spark at Sarajevo set the world on fire, to the present moment, the people of the civilized world have, with spirit never heretofore manifested, sought a preventive of war."

"With the sinking of the Lusitania, the William P. Frye and the Lusitania the spirit arose in the United States against the aggressor. The submarine warfare carried on by Germany culminated in a declaration of war by the United States on April 8, when Germany notified us that her submarine warfare would be recommenced.

J. A. O. PREUS

"While the proximate cause of the entry of the United States into the war doubtless was the warfare carried on by Germany against the United States through her submarines, nevertheless, the heart of the American people, with their 5,000,000 men in the service entered into the struggle with the hope that war would terminate in a concrete guaranty that the world should be safe from future wars. The beautiful term, 'A League of Nations to enforce peace,' was used and the people of all lands, particularly our own, accepted the ideal expressed in these terms and hoped that it might materialize.

Would League Prevent War?

"Entwined in the treaty of peace at Versailles was found what is known as 'The League of Nations to Enforce Peace.'

"There is not a heart in this land which does not favor a League of Nations to enforce peace, but in many minds the question has arisen: Would the League of Nations contained in the Versailles treaty result in permanent peace? Should it be accepted without dotting an 'i' or crossing a 't,' or should certain reservations there-to be made?

"The League of Nations purports to be an international diplomatic organization in which all nations of the world may become members, and it is hoped that it is so constituted that it will guarantee the world against future wars.

"The whole question in discussing this subject is therefore, whether the structure is such as to reasonably assure us that if the League were adopted by the United States as well as other nations of the world, permanent peace would be the result.

Six Votes for Britain.

"The plan proposes that there be two chambers in which member nations shall have representation. The two chambers consist of an assembly and council, every member nation has three representatives, (one vote) in the assembly except the British empire, which is given 13 representatives and six votes, one of each of its self-governing dominions, or colonies. The British empire, therefore, has six votes in the assembly against one for each of the other countries, including the United States.

"The other chamber, called the council, consists of one representative from each of five countries, United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, together with four members to

"There is not a heart in this land which does not favor a League of Nations to enforce peace, but in many minds this question has arisen: Would the League of Nations contained in the Versailles treaty result in permanent peace?"

"With six votes, the British Empire might have the power to exercise an unfair advantage. When Congress inserted a reservation providing that the British Empire should have but one representative, President Wilson vetoed the treaty."

"With the league as originally framed, one person, representing the United States, sitting as a member of a council of nine, could morally bind the United States to go to war to preserve the integrity of a foreign land."

"Congress would become a mere rubber stamp for the decisions of nine countries, of which the United States is but one."

"Under the present plan, should the people of Ireland revolt, the strong arm of the United States might be invoked to prevent the Irish from doing what the Americans did in 1776."

"Under the League of Nations, the Japanese immigration question would be left to the United States and eight other countries, of which Japan is one."

oe elected at any time by the assembly. It can easily be seen how with six votes in the assembly the British empire might have the power to exercise, and consequently might exercise an unfair advantage in electing the additional four members in the council from nations which she might dominate or influence in questions arising between the nations.

Senate Would Safeguard U. S.

"In order to safeguard the United States against such unfair advantage being given to one nation, the senate of the United States, exercising its right under the constitution to have the treaty-making power with the president of the United States, provided the British empire should have one representative in the assembly. To this, President Wilson objected, and on this ground, together with others, he vetoed the treaty of Versailles as changed by the United States senate, when it was presented to him.

"The covenant provides that the council shall by unanimous vote determine when it is necessary for the members of the League of Nations to exercise its authority, military or otherwise, and Article X reads as follows: 'The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.'

"Under the constitution of the United States, congress is given the exclusive power to declare war. Under the plan of the League of Nations, one representative, appointed by the president of the United States, a member of the council, together with eight representatives of foreign powers, would have the right to determine when the territorial integrity of any member of the league has been violated. One person, therefore, representing the president of the United States, sitting as a member of this council of nine, could morally bind the United States of America to go to war to preserve the territorial and political integrity of a foreign nation.

"As President Wilson has stated, this is a moral obligation which he again asserted is 'of course superior to a legal obligation.'

"To maintain the honor of the United States in this society of nations, congress would be compelled to declare war for the purpose indicated and congress would become nothing but a rubber stamp for the decisions of the representatives of nine countries, of which the United States controls one alone.

What Senate Seeks.

"To avoid this situation, the senate of the United States, exercising its constitutional powers and its obligation as part of the treaty making power of the United States, adopted the reservation which provides that the action of the council in any instance should in no way be a binding obligation, moral or otherwise, on the congress of the United States to declare war. In other words, what the republican senate endeavored to establish was that one representative of the United States, together with the representatives of eight foreign countries, should not determine when your son should go to war, but that this duty should continue to remain as provided under the constitution of the United States with the American people through their duly elected members of congress.

"Article X is what the president of the United States termed the heart of the covenant. Without it, the League of Nations plan fails. It is for the American people on Nov. 2 to determine whether it will have a League of Nations with Article X in, or will endorse the senate of the United States, which wants the war making power to continue to be lodged in the American people as regards the American youth.

"Let us take a few examples as to what might be the result under the League of Nations as presented by the president.

"Shantung, consisting of 40,000,000 Chinese, was under the Treaty of Versailles, delivered as a possession of Cox Wiggles and Wobbles.

BY SCOTT C. BONE.

Candidate Cox, recklessly charging that the Republican party had set out to corrupt the electorate by raising a fund of $15,000,000 with which to "buy the presidency," has been utterly confuted by the facts.

Instead, it has been completely established that the goal fixed by Chairman Hays was only one-fifth that amount, or $3,000,000, with contributions rigidly limited to $1,000, and that never before has a campaign fund been so free from the taint of corporate, sinister or sordid influences.

That an overtaxed, overburdened and weary country, paying the cost of incompetence, incapacity and extravagance in governmental affairs and maladministration at Washington, would welcome relief at any price legitimately expended may be taken for granted.

But only in the wild dreams of Candidate Cox—who stands committed to Wilsonism and the wastefulness of Wilsonism, with everything that Wilsonism typifies and implies—has any such expenditure as Candidate Cox charged ever been remotely conceived or for a moment contemplated.

Even his foremost newspaper champions—organs of the international banking crowd which favor his candidacy because, with equal rashness, he promises that if elected he will go into the Wilson League of Nations—editorially admit that his slush fund charges have proven groundless.

Candidate Cox's credibility as a witness has similarly been damaged by the wet and dry issue confronting him.

To the indisputable proof that the New Jersey Liquor Dealers' Association is appealing for funds to elect him as a "pronounced wet" he replies that the liquor interests of Ohio never contributed to any of his campaigns.

Yet a sworn statement, signed by the secretary of the Ohio Liquor Dealers' Association and on file in the secretary of state's office, shows that that organization contributed a substantial sum out of its treasury to the Cox campaign of 1916.

And in the face of it all, having withstood for months, in silence, William Jennings Bryan's denunciation of him as a "wet" and unit to run for president, Candidate Cox, with characteristic audacity, now assures a North Dakota crowd that "I have always voted dry."

Imagine Boss Murphy, Boss Taggart, Boss Brennan and that Youngstown Apostle of Light and Uplift, Ed Moore, contriving the nomination at San Francisco of a candidate who had "always voted dry." Imagine it, if you can!

Shade of John Barleycorn! What a spectacle is presented in American politics!

Germany, to Japan, to be a possession of Japan. Suppose that these 40,000,000 of Chinese, desiring their independence, jointly with China, or independently, revolted for their freedom to throw off the rule of Japan. If the council of the League of Nations should determine that the United States was in duty bound to preserve the territorial integrity of Japan, the boys of the United States would have to fight to prevent the Chinese of Shantung from doing what George Washington and his boys did when the United States gained its independence from Great Britain.

Ireland As Example.

"Suppose the people of Ireland finally revolt against Great Britain and should secure aid from some other country. The council of the League of Nations might determine that the territorial integrity of Great Britain was being violated, and again the strong arm of the United States might be invoked to prevent the Irish from doing what the Americans did in 1776.

"Again, Poland was created an independent nation by the treaty of Versailles. Russia has a greater population than the United States. It is making war on Poland. The council of the League of Nations could throw United States into war to defend the territorial integrity of the newly created Poland.

"It is notorious that the new nations established in the Balkans are neither in sympathy in nationality, in interests, in aspirations or in any way homogeneous. The new Siberia has arisen out of the ruins of old Siberia. Montenegro, Albania, and Herzegovina. These people are not friendly with one another, but they are joined as one nation according to the Treaty of Versailles, and they will hang together probably just as long as they will avoid the old obligations of Austria-Hungary, incurred in the war. The territorial integrity of such a nation, United States is bound to preserve.

Takes Power From Congress.

"Let it be borne in mind that one of the niceties about the constitution of America is the wonderful balance of authority and power. The constitution of the United States very wisely provides that congress, representing the American people, shall have the sole power to declare war. The League of Nations proposed to change congress to a mere rubber stamp for the council of the League of Nations, consisting of one representative from nine different nations, and would hereafter place the moral obligations of declaring war on congress whenever the council so determined. Otherwise the solemn treaty of the United States, with other nations, would be broken and its honor in the society of nations destroyed.

"Another reservation made to the League of Nations by the senate is to the effect that the United States reserves the right to determine for itself whether a question is a domestic one or whether it is an international one. This is of great importance.

"Under the League of Nations, Japan would doubtless seek for its people the right to emigrate to United States and become citizens. United States could no longer determine this question of immigration. It would be left for United States and eight other countries, of which Japan is one.

"Today we have a specific example of the necessity of such a reservation. Finland has declared the Aland islands dispute, which means whether Finland or Sweden shall have domination over these islands, is an internal question for Finland. Sweden has determined otherwise. The League of Nations might determine that it is an international question or an internal question. Finland, on account of its weakness, would be obliged to acquiesce.

Rule by Foreign Nations Feared.

"United States of America went into the great war because of the warfare carried on by Germany against it, but the great spirit which moved our people was the hope that when the struggle should end, an international body might be created as a preventive of wars in the future. Whether this body be called a League of Nations, a Hague tribunal or have any other nomenclature is of no importance. That it be fathered by democrats or republicans is not of the slightest importance. That it should be a tribunal with right and power to determine international questions there can be no doubt.

"The object of the democratic party is that wars in which the United States of America shall in the future engage shall be determined by nine countries of the world. Republican party believes that before America is thrown into war, the American people shall speak through their duly elected members of congress, and to this ideal the republican party is committed and for it stands the chief spokesman of the republican party, the republican nominee for president, Warren G. Harding.

"Let us not reject the work of our forebears.

"Let us not sully their memory.

"Let us not yield to a foreign power a jot or tittle of our independence guaranteed us under our constitution."

COX STUMPING IN DELEWARE AND MARYLAND

THINKS HE SEES INDICATIONS OF A DRIFT OF SENTIMENT TOWARDS HIMSELF

HERBERT WALKER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Enroute with Gov. Cox, Wilmington, Del., Oct. 21—Governor James M. Cox as he began his stump campaign in Delaware and Maryland today declared political events have taken such a decided turn within the last two weeks that "there are incipient manifestations of a landslide for his candidacy."

"If I am any judge of crowd psychology the undercurrent of independent thoughts is growing more rapidly since Senator Harding declared at Des Moines for rejection of the league of nations covenant that would engulf the party wall."

Cox's optimism was due in some measure to the receptions he received during the last two days in New England, generally considered a republican stronghold.

Only two speeches were on the governor's schedule today, one here and one at Baltimore.

Cox expected a reply from Elihu Root in response to a telegram demanding that the former secretary of state retract a recent statement that "Mr. Cox declared he will insist upon the treaty just as Mr. Wilson negotiated it."

Regarding the statement, Gov. Cox charged Root has not read the newspapers since the campaign started or he is attempting to deceive the people.

Cox Audience Hisses Harding's Name

Wilmington, Oct. 21—Senator Harding's name was hissed by an audience which packed a big theatre here today to hear Governor Cox.

The demonstration against Senator Harding's name came when the governor mentioned the republican candidate signed Senator Lodge's "round robin" against the peace treaty.

A short time before the crowd hissed at the mention of Lodge's name while President Wilson's name was applauded.

The theatre where the governor spoke had room for about half of the people that sought to hear him. The streets near by were crowded with people. The governor again ridiculed Harding as implying that France desired to desert the league for a new association of nations.

"Senator Harding says he can not reveal who gave him the impression regarding France," Cox said.

Governor Cox said that he would claim Senator Harding's offer of a reward to anyone who could show him that he has changed his position on the league of nations issue.

"I can show conclusively that Senator Harding changed his position 13 times on the league of nations question in the last 13 months. That ought to permit me to collect the reward," Cox said.

Shark Oil in Commerce.

An American citizen of San Francisco has secured a concession for the establishment of a shark oil industry in the Gulf of Fonseca. Besides the oil, which will find a market locally from the soap factories, as well as in the United States, the fins are marketable and fertilizer will be produced.

Conveys Idea of Meanness.

Thrifty habits of the rural New England deacon have resulted in the perversion of the noun and its use as a verb is well understood. To "deacon" a calf is to knock it in the head when born, hence, "deaconed" veal. To "deacon" strawberries, a custom more honored in the observance than in the breach, is to put the largest ones on top, and to "deacon" land is to extend one's fence to include a portion of the highway.

Forceful Expressions.

Why in addition to other distinctive features the taint of insanity should attach to the climax leetacularis is quite incomprehensible, but "as crazy as a bed bug" implies the imperative need of an alienist, while "as crazy as a coot" is equally forcible.

Machine Worth Having.

"The typewriter will never be perfect," says the Syracuse Herald, "until it can go ahead and write something without somebody telling it what to say." Which reminds us of what Kipling in his livelier days wrote as a testimonial for a certain machine. "I just start the typewriter off with a line," he said; "then I go out for a walk, and when I return there is the poem all written."—Boston Transcript.

Why He Resigned.

"My dear, I would do anything in world for you," he said. "Would you let me drive your car all by myself?" she asked innocent-like. But that was too much, and he hung his head and soon it was all over between them.—Buffalo Commercial.
